Lake Co. Fair Ready to Open Here Tomorrow

Tents Go up and Exhibits Are Being Brought in Today

Tents were up today on the fair grounds. Jack of Antioch Township High school, electricians and carpenters were busy, and entries were arriving by the truck load for the annual Lake County fair, which opens Friday for three gaily days.

Some of the refreshment stands were already doing business today as hungry or thirsty workers edged over to the booths run by the Home bureau and the FFA for ice cream, pop, and more substantial "snacks."

Many livestock and poultry entries had already been received by noon today, and the bulk of them were expected to arrive during the afternoon and evening.

As in other years, the 4-H exhibits will occupy a prominent place. Many of these are fine enough to make veterans look to their laurels.

A spectacular horse show will be staged Friday evening at 8 o'clock, daylight saving time, with another one Saturday evening at the same time. The horse show will take place Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, daylight saving time.

Many Judging Contests

Judging contests will include dairy cattle judging Friday morning at 8 o'clock; fat stock judging Saturday at 8 a.m., and poultry judging Saturday following the placing of all dairy exhibits by the judge.

In the Boys' 4-H club division, the judging in dairy classes will begin Friday, at 1 p.m.; judging in beef classes will be held Saturday morning, as will also judging in sheep classes and swine. The judging of poultry will start at 9 a.m. daylight saving time, Friday.

The Boys' 4-H division will also include an electrical exhibit, a corn, potato and grain judging show, a forestry exhibit and a boys' 4-H club record exhibit.

The Girls' 4-H division will include exhibits of clothing made by the girls, food exhibits, room improvement exhibits and winter-project exhibits.

Special entertainment features, including aerial acts, are also included in the program for the fair.

Great Lakes-Glenview Bill Sponsored by Paddock Becomes Law

Waiting only for presidential signature before becoming law, the Navy's authorization bill H. R. 5312, carrying $5,595,000 for Great Lakes Naval Training Station and $120,000 for Glenview's Naval Reserve Air Base, passed the Senate late Thursday. On its heels was H. R. 4512, First National Defense Supplemental Appropriation Bill for 1942, which appropriated the funds for the Navy's public works just approved.

Both bills were held over for conference between the House and Senate over minor amendments, but both were released Friday afternoon, officially enacted by Congress. There were no amendments to either the Great Lakes or the Glenview proposals.

The $5,595,000 for Great Lakes will add barracks and officers' quarters in a program of expansion for an expected increase of 2,000 men. The air base appropriation is not detailed.

Members of Rebekah Lodge No. 44 of Cicero, who held an all-day outing at Loon lake Tuesday, enjoyed a delicious chicken dinner served by Mrs. Henry Holzrichter Tuesday noon at the Old Orchard Inn.

Antioch News Enters Its Fifty-fifth Year

With last week's issue, the Antioch News, founded in 1886, entered upon its fifty-fifth year.

Founded by J. J. Burke, an able and witty newspaperman of the "golden era of journalism," in the late 1880's that saw many noted writers emerge from this profession, the Antioch News has long been considered a leader among county weeklies.

Its contents have been quoted in Congress at Washington, D. C., and have also occasionally been quoted by leading publications in large metropolitan centers.

During the past 16 years the paper has been published by H. B. Gaston.

Aces Win and Lose In Double Header

After winning 5 to 3 over the fast Wilmot team in the first half of a double header at Fox River park Sunday afternoon, the Aces lost 5 to 7 to the Kenosha Sons of Legion team. Errors in the final inning accounted for the loss of the game, which the locals had all but won, 4 to 5, until the ninth inning, when the Legion team chased three counters across the plate.

Are These "Words Writ in Waters"

These are the words of President Franklin D. Roosevelt:

"It is for peace I have labored, and it is for peace I shall labor all the days of my life." Oct. 2, 1940.

"I repeat again that I stand on the platform of our party; we will not participate in foreign wars and will not send our army, naval or air forces to fight in foreign lands except in case of attack." Oct. 23, 1940.

"To every man, woman and child I say this—your president is following the road to peace. We are arming ourselves not for any war. We are arming ourselves not for any conquest or intervention in foreign disputes." Oct. 23, 1940.

"I give to the people of this country the most solemn assurance: There is no secret treaty; no secret understanding direct or indirect, with any other nation in any part of the world to involve this nation in any war, or for any other purpose." Oct. 23, 1940.

"To you American fathers and mothers, I give you one more assurance. Your boys are not going to be sent into any foreign wars. They are going into training to form a force so strong that by its very existence, it will keep the threat of war far away from our shores." Oct. 31, 1940.

"I am fighting to keep this nation prosperous and at peace." Nov. 2, 1940.

"The first purpose of our foreign policy is to keep our country out of war." Nov. 3, 1940.

"There have been two thoughts uppermost in my mind—to preserve peace in our land and to make the forces of democracy work for the benefit of the common people of America." Nov. 5, 1940.

"In any event, such an invasion could not be attempted before 1942 and it may not become a possibility before 1943, according to those who discussed the situation with the President."

How to Lose the War

Much of the serious writing of the period is concerned with the world of the future—with the "new world" which will follow this war. Utopias of a hundred kinds are on order, to be delivered when the dictators are at last defeated.

Unfortunately, a good many idealists seem to regard the future as a thing complete in itself, which will have little connection with the present.

The truth is that the future can have no meaning, save in its relation to the past. We cannot talk of freedom and justice tomorrow, and disregard them today. We cannot win this war by building a gigantic military machine to defend us from invasion from without, and at the same time permit our liberties to be progressively destroyed from within.

For example, a peace-time Federal debt of nearly fifty billion dollars, EXCLUSIVE of the war emergency, is something that must be taken into consideration before plans for the future can be laid with any certainty. Likewise, deliberate movements to undermine the free enterprise system, movements that have of late years made substantial progress, must be stemmed, if there is to be any future for us as a nation of free men. Representative government cannot be maintained without free enterprise. Studied efforts to socialize or obtain dictatorial government domination over America's basic industries, such as power, mining, oil, etc., must be stopped, because whether you like them or not, such basic industries are the keystone of our whole American system. If they ever become the patronage machines of a bureau-ridden central government, dreams of a better future for the individual in this land of ours, will be indeed idle.

Private enterprise in any field can be regulated. The abuses of private enterprise can be corrected and the abusers punished. But no one has yet found the solution to the problem of government grown too great—government abuses. The end result is always dictatorship for all.

This American future we talk about must be founded upon a system which has done more for the common man or woman than any other system the world has ever known.

Let Us Rejoice

WHEN we see the joy of children spontaneously and continuously manifested, and their assurance of the love of their parents, it might well inspire in us a greater confidence in the Father, God, who ever blesses all. That men stand in need of a fuller, more permanent joy is plain. Those who consider the subject of little importance would do well not only to remember how essential joy is to true living, but to recall how highly the Apostle Paul valued it when in his list of spiritual fruits, he placed it next to love. . . .

The fundamental nature of joy can best be understood when it is discerned how all good is possible of attainment through the spiritual understanding of man's true being as the son of God. If God is All and man is created in His image and likeness — as is so clearly stated in the first chapter of Genesis — the possibilities of good in such a relationship must indeed be limitless. Here, then, is the scientific call to a joy far beyond what materiality could provide.

Many Bible characters have experienced great joy as the result of their understanding of God; but no one has so fully demonstrated joy to be the inevitable result of the understanding of man's unity with God as has Christ Jesus, the Way-shower. When he told his hearers (John 10:30), "I and my Father are one," he proved what he said by casting out every form of error. He also made it clear that those who understood his teaching would do even greater works than he was doing. True joy, then, is a spiritual quality arising from the fundamental fact of man's oneness with his Father, God, and it can never spring from the illusory pleasures of matter, mood, or caprice.

When the prophet Isaiah spoke of the manifestation of the Christ-idea, he sought to make it clear that joy was one of its notable characteristics. He wrote (Isaiah 61:1, 3), "The Spirit of the Lord God is upon me; . . . to appoint unto them that mourn in Zion, to give unto them beauty for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness; that they might be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the Lord, that he might be glorified;" while in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy has written a correlative passage which reads (p. 304): "Harmony is produced by its Principle, is controlled by it and abides with it. Divine Principle is the Life of man. Man's happiness is not, therefore, at the disposal of physical sense. Truth is not contaminated by error. Harmony in man is as beautiful as in music, and discord is unnatural, unreal."

One's understanding of the allness of God as the source of true, that is, of spiritual joy, is strengthened by a statement of the Way-shower's, which brings steadfastness and peace. He comforted his followers with the assurance (John 10:22): "Your joy no man taketh from you."

To lack joy is to be deprived of the logical outcome of spiritual understanding. Consistently to recognize the things for which we can be grateful is to cultivate joy and to enhance its loveliness. Let us then cheer our own experience, as well as the world about us, by the expression of more gratitude.

In the universe of God's creating, where the spiritual man forever dwells, there is no hectic rushing hither and thither to seek joy. Joy is a spiritual attribute which all may express here and now in the simple kindnesses of the daily routine. Thus we see how true it is that while good brings joy, joy also brings more good.

"Rejoice evermore. . . . In every thing give thanks" (1 Thessalonians 5:16, 18). Not only with our lips, but in our lives should joy and gratitude be expressed, and this will result in untold blessings."

Natives of South Africa are flooring their homes with old newspapers ground to a pulp and mixed with paste.

Blue Jays as Valets

Blue jays sometimes act as "valets" to deer. As the animals drink and browse, the jays go to work removing the ticks that infest the deer. Strangely, each bird adopts one particular deer for regular "brush-offs."

Millions in Mortgages

Lending institutions operating under the FHA insured mortgage program originated during 1940 a total of $880,465,000 in small home mortgages accepted for FHA insurance, Federal Housing Administrator Abner H. Ferguson announced recently.

Derived From Scapegoat

The origin of the expression "to make one the goat," comes from the word "scapegoat." Under Biblical law the sins of the people were placed upon the head of a goat which was permitted to escape into the wilderness.

Ravenglen Farms

The Ravenglen Farms Herd now consists of some 200 head. Among them you will find many of the finest of the Holstein breed. We are building on the World Famous BESSIE family. We bought the tops of the Elmwood Farms Dispersal, among them King Bessie Senator who topped this great sale. Since then many more fine ones have been added, mostly of this BESSIE blood. However, a few great foundation cows are being added of other blood lines to help out with our breeding plan.

Grand Champion Cow, 1941 Illinois State Fair.
All-American Aged Cow, 1940.
All-American 4-Year-Old, 1939.
National Grand Champion, Treasure Island, 1939.

You are taking no chances in buying from such a PROVEN family as the BESSIES. No other family of the Holstein breed can equal them in this proven ABILITY to TRANSMIT this important combination of great production with high test and Show Type.

Mr. E. H. Ravenscroft, Glencoe, Illinois, of the Abbott Laboratories, the owner of Ravenglen Farms, is sparing no expense in building one of the finest herds in America.

Ravenglen Farms consist of some 900 acres of fertile Lake County land. The North Farm is on 173, one-half mile west of the intersection of 45 and 173.

The South Farm is on 45, one-half mile south of the same intersection. On these farms you will find new modern dairy buildings, and on the South Farm is one of the finest barns in America.

SOCIETY EVENTS

Paul Viezens Celebrate 60 Years of Wedded Life With Family Reunion

A family re-union attended by four generations marked the sixtieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Viezens at their home on North Main street Sunday.

Those present included their sons and families, the Harry Viezens of Chicago and the Herbert Viezens of New Jersey; their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Gollwitzer of Rhinelander, Wis.; their grandsons and families, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hattendorf and Mr. and Mrs. William Hattendorf and daughter, Audrey Jean of Antioch.

Also present were Mrs. Viezen's brother, H. D. Hardt, and family, of Chicago, and her sister, Mrs. Lillie Bischoff and family, also of Chicago.

Roses and lilies formed the center piece for the 1 o'clock dinner at which covers were placed for 35, and other garden flowers decorated the home for the reception held during the afternoon and evening.

Among the many lovely gifts the couple received from their family and friends in honor of the occasion was a set of porch furniture. Many messages of felicitation from those unable to be present were also received by the Viezens.

SHOWER BRIDE-TO-BE AT LA PLANT HOME

More than a score of friends and relatives formed the guest list at a miscellaneous pre-nuptial shower given for Miss Andrea Dalgaard Saturday night at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sol LaPlant, on South Main street.

Miss Dalgaard is soon to become the bride of Mr. Walter Wester of Chicago. She has been in the employ of Marshall Field and Company for the last three years.

CELEBRATE JOINT BIRTHDAY PARTY AT JOHNSON HOME

Twenty-five high school students from Chicago and local schools were guests at the joint birthday party held Friday in honor of Misses Sybil Johnson and Catherine Quigley at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Johnson, at Lake Catherine. The home was decorated in red and white. There were refreshments and many gifts were received by the girls on their 17th birthday.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Soul" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 17.

The Golden Text was, "Bless the Lord, O my soul; and all that is within me, bless his holy name" (Psalms 103:1).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "My soul, wait thou only upon God; for my expectation is from him. In God is my salvation and my glory; the rock of my strength, and my refuge, is in God" (Psalms 62:5, 7).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Day may decline and shadows fall, but darkness flees when the earth has again turned upon its axis. The sun is not affected by the revolution of the earth. So Science reveals God as God, untouched by sin and death,—as the central Life and intelligence around which circle harmoniously all things in the systems of Mind" (p. 310).

Eleanor Mortensen Becomes Bride In Chicago Ceremony

Miss Eleanor Mortensen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Mortensen, Antioch, became the bride of William Herbert Goetz, Chicago, at a ceremony in the rectory of St. Hilary's church, in that city Saturday.

After the service the wedding party returned to Antioch for a reception at the Mortensen home on South Main street, at 4 o'clock.

For the wedding and reception the bride wore a gown of soldier blue, with accessories in black, and a corsage of gardenias.

Following a honeymoon trip in northern Wisconsin, the Goetz' plan to make their home in Chicago.

The bride is a graduate of Antioch Township High school.

"Cactus Garden" is Unusual Hobby of Antioch Resident

Cacti, euphorbia and similar plants from the United States, Mexico, Central and South America, Africa, Madagascar, Japan and the Philippines rear their picturesque, sculptured forms or squat, spine-covered, in the cactus garden the Rev. Joseph Savage has assembled at his home on South Main street.

Planted out-doors in the summer and removed to Pollock's greenhouse for care during the winter, the cactus garden represents several years of collection and study on the part of Father Savage.

Many of the plants he collected during his own travels and others were sent to him by friends who knew of his interest in them.

Father Savage's cactus garden began in quite an accidental fashion, he relates, when a neighbor gave him a plant. He became interested in gathering others, until now he estimates that he has in the neighborhood of 200 varieties and species.

The true cactus is found only in the western hemisphere, he explains, but many other types of plants, such as the euphorbias, and the "stone plants" of Africa, resemble them and are included in his garden.

The cacti from the southern hemisphere, he explains, have their "growing season" during the winter months, and while those from the northern hemisphere are flourishing these days in the outdoor garden, the others refuse to be "fooled" by the sun-time or rain, and are "resting" until their spring season, which will commence in September.

Cacti from Peru, Guatemala the "cactus" of the southwestern Indians, the magnolia plant, the leopard plant, a plant from near Dakar, a night-blooming cereus, now in bud—these are just a few of the fascinating specimens Father Savage points out to visitors who inspect his garden.

He keeps in touch with cactus fanciers in Chicago, and specimens of rare plants—some of those Father Savage has gathered in his collection are considered quite unusual—are exchanged among them.

22 YEARS AGO

Local and Personal Happenings
Genevieve Sanborn returned home Saturday after having spent the past month with her grandparents at Spring Grove.

Miss Mary Tiffany who has been attending school at Champaign arrived home the first of the week for a short vacation.

Rev. and Mrs. S. E. Pollock drove to their former home at Shirland, Ill., on Wednesday, where Mr. Pollock officiated at a marriage service.

The next meeting of the Ladies' Guild will be held at the home of Mrs. E. B. Williams, Wednesday afternoon, August 27. Everybody cordially invited to attend. Maud Kettlenut, vice pres.

Miss Hattie Johnson of Chicago returned from the Lake Geneva Epworth League institute by way of Antioch and spent Monday and Tuesday with Miss Ruth Pollock.

A lady's handbag containing a large sum of money, Ingersoll wrist watch, white silk gloves and some white tatting disappeared from a cottage at Cross lake some time last Saturday or Sunday. If returned to this office a reward will be given.

We will grind feed on Wednesday and Saturday until further notice. Antioch Milling Company.

Repeal of the daylight saving act was accomplished Wednesday, the Senate voting to sustain the house in passing the repeal measure over President Wilson's veto. The vote was 57 to 19. The House of Representatives cast a similar vote Tuesday and daylight saving thus is killed, so when we turn our clocks back next October it will be the end of changing time.

AUGUST 1894

47 Years Ago

Miss Pollock of Wadsworth and a lady friend, made the News a short call Saturday.

J. J. Morley expects to start for the North in a couple of weeks and will take with him a number of horses.

P. H. Burke of the Chicago Police force, and Mr. William Kelly and Miss Lecture of Chicago have been visiting Antioch relatives the past few weeks.

A party of tramps made Antioch a rendezvous this last week. They are all able bodied men, but claimed they could not find work. They left this place late in the week.

CLOSE OF VOLUME SEVEN

With the present issue the News closes the seventh year of its publication and has now, so to speak, reached the age of reason. Originally established as an independent paper, for reasons that must be obvious to anyone who loves his country better than party. We have seen fit to support the Republican ticket, both state and national, believing it to be the best interest of the people, especially the toiling multitudes, to do so.

We have never as yet felt called upon to make any apology for any of our acts as publishers and have no excuse to make or apology to offer. We will, in the future, as in the past, strive to make each edition of the News better than the preceding one, and solicit the co-operation of every one who believes that a newspaper should voice public sentiment and labor for the best interests of the people. Thanking our patrons for loyal patronage in the past, we solicit the same generous
